A FEARFUL HURRICANE.

Thousands of People Homeless, Crops Destroyed, Vessels Wrecked, and Families Immiserated.

Kingston, via Havana, August 19.—A disastrous hurricane passed over Jamaica last night. Thousands of people are homeless. Crops, fruit, trees and farm produce generally was destroyed. Colossal trees were uprooted and churches demolished. The barracks in this city were destroyed. Three wharves are gone, and eight large and thirty-two small vessels were wrecked in the harbor. A famine is imminent, and help is required for the starving thousands.

FOREIGN FACTS.

Berlin, August 26.—The weekly interest of the Imperial Bank of Germany has declined in specie of 120,000 marks.

London, August 26.—Bullion in the bank of England increased £3,000 in the past week, proportion of revenue to liabilities 52 1/2 per cent.

London, August 26.—Loeb & Co., of London, New York and Toronto, have failed. Liabilities estimated at £40,000; assets £30,000. Durham & Co., merchants, have failed. Liabilities not reported.

London, August 26.—James Allan, senior partner in the firm running the Allan line of steamers is dead.

Berlin, August 26.—A correspondent at Prague, Bohemia will arrive in Berlin on the 29th inst. from Kissingen where he will go to Friedrichshagen to carry west Prussia. The government will immediately begin to construct a railway.

London August 26.—A Bucharest correspondent reports that a Russian engineer has been commissioned to go to Constantinople and assist in a consultation in the most practical course for the construction of a railroad from Istanbul to the Black Sea.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—For the lower Lake region falling barometer, warmer, east to south winds, partly cloudy or cloudy weather and occasional rain. For Tennessee and the Ohio Valley lower barometer, stationary or higher temperature, east to south winds and partly cloudy weather.

Improving. Long Branch, Aug. 26.—Washington McLean is decidedly better this morning.

A POOR ARGUMENT.

The First Voters Assailed in a Cowardly Manner.

It is a well known fact that the Republicans in this city are reduced to the last extremities and are simply desperate, but it was not expected that they would resort to any such means to injure their opponents as that used by them last evening. When the procession of the "First Voters" reached Clay street the rear of the line was greeted with a shower of bricks and other tokens of regard. A young man in the procession named Kiser was struck with a large stone in the back of the head and sustained a frightful wound. Several other young men were also severely injured. Such conduct on the part of Republicans is unworthy of comment and can only serve to incense all fair-minded citizens against the much despised Radical party. We think that all liberal-minded citizens who may be so unfortunate as to be members of the Republican party will agree with us in denouncing the infamous action of last evening and raise their voices against it. Several of the leading Democrats of this city are greatly incensed at the treatment accorded the First Voters and threaten to institute legal proceedings against several of the offenders who are well known as foremost Republican howlers.

Finding of the Bruised and Battered Body of a Woman.

Healthy Report of the Corn Crop in the Northwest.

Dr. Buchanan, of Bogus Diplomacy, Fully Identified.

A Batch of Interesting Local News.

A Woman Brutally Murdered.

Cincinnati, August 26.—The body of an unknown woman, horribly torn and bruised, was found yesterday in a secluded ravine, two miles north of Sidney, O. It could not be identified.

A post-mortem revealed the fact that the woman would shortly have been delivered of twins. Wm. Curtis, a canal boatman, was arrested on suspicion, it being thought that the dead woman was a cook on his canal boat. The place of murder showed signs of a fierce struggle. The woman's clothing was torn and scattered around.

The Corn Crop in the Northwest.

Chicago, August 26.—Howard, White & Crowell, of the Commercial Bulletin, have replies from correspondents in twenty counties in the northwest from August 10th to the present time as to the condition and prospects of the corn crop. The result is the discovery that the stories of drought have been much exaggerated and that the frequent showers of the past few days will doubtless remedy the greater part of the evil from the drought. The crop will certainly be a large average, the damage being confined to narrow limits. In other districts the crops will be the largest on record.

Dr. Buchanan Identified.

Detroit, Michigan, Aug. 26.—The identity of Dr. Buchanan, of Philadelphia, now stopping at Windsor, has been fully established to day. A woman, who has been with him, left for the East to night. Reporters have been bothering the bogus diplomatist almost unendurably, but they extract nothing from him but an invitation to proceed to a certain warm place that need not be mentioned.

General Weaver.

Washington, August 26.—General Weaver, the Greenback candidate for President, leaves to-morrow for Boston. He speaks in Faneuil hall Friday night.

St. Petersburg, August 26.—Gen. Melnikoff to-day held a reception attended by the officials of the new Ministry of the Interior, to whom he delivered an address soliciting their co-operation and assistance.

Late News.

Dr. William C. Matthews, D. D., a well-known Presbyterian minister of Louisville, died Tuesday night at La-Grange, Ky., where he was spending the summer. Dr. Matthews was, for a number of years, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Shelbyville, and afterward pastor of the Fifth church in Louisville. He was in the seventy-third year of his age, and has for several years suffered from a complicated disease of the heart. His death was quite sudden, the illness being only a few hours' duration.

The report gained currency last night that General John McDonald, of whisky ring notoriety, had been arrested for criminal libel in having published certain statements reflecting on General Grant and his connection with the prosecution of the whisky ring. The fact is, McDonald was arrested for assault, at Pana, Ill., and was fined $25 and costs. There is no truth in the previous rumor.

The building occupied by the Pittsburgh Telegraph caught fire yesterday evening about 6 o'clock, and for a time it was feared the entire building was doomed. The Fire Department, however, by extraordinary exertion, managed to confine the flames to the rear portion, and soon had them under control. The proprietors state that the damage to the paper cannot be estimated to-night, but that it is small, and will not interfere with the publication, and that they will issue to-day as usual. The loss on the building and bindery will reach $5,000; fully insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A fire broke out about eight o'clock last evening in the planing-mill of John S. Cameron & Co., on Bremen avenue, just east of the Union Stock Yards, and in a few minutes it was entirely destroyed. Loss on the mill and machinery, about $20,000. Insured for $14,000. In and around the mill was about 2,000,000 feet of lumber waiting to be dressed. This was owned by Knapp, Stout & Co., and was consumed. To the north and east of the mill was the lumber yard of John Meyer, containing about 3,000,000 feet of white pine, which was also destroyed. Loss, $50,000 to $60,000. To the west and north of Meyer's yard, covering an area of several acres, are the lumber yards of Knapp, Stout & Co. At last accounts their office and perhaps $20,000 feet of lumber had been burned, but the fire was under control, and unless an east wind should spring up no further destruction is apprehended. The Union Stock yards are on the opposite side of Bremen avenue, but no damage was done them.

J. Wilson, a section hand on the B. and O. railroad, was run over and killed near Newark yesterday morning. He was drunk and lying across the track. His head and one hand were severed.

In the case of Dr. Earl, the notorious Chicago abortionist, the coroner's jury yesterday rendered the following verdict:

Joe Fox—boy.

J. D. Cook is here.

J. D. Cook is in the city.

Ben Bohn, of Chicago, is in the city.

Mart Detzer will leave to-morrow for Chicago.

Live stock business on the Pittsburgh is lull.

Dr. Greenwalt has opened an office at 88 Calhoun street.

Chas. Falls and Miss Emma Buckles were married to-day.

Hon. R. C. Bell will speak at Forest next Tuesday evening.

The enumerators have finished the enumeration of two districts.

Elijah Smith, receiver of the Municipality, is at the Palmer, Chicago.

A burglary or a murder are among the things Fort Wayne don't possess.

J. D. Cook and the waterworks contractors will have a consultation to-morrow.

Charley Jones, of the recorder's office, is the delightful dad of a 13 pound boy.

The commissioners yesterday took an inventory of all the live stock on the county farm.

C. S. Faulks, Esq., of Pleasant township, was among the visitors to the city yesterday.

The city band will play for the Democratic meeting in the court house yard this evening.

Captain Hettler is devoting all his time and energy for the success of the good old Democratic cause.

Loughlin, the man recently injured by a planer in the Pittsburgh machine shop, is able to be around.

The alley running between Main and Columbia from Clinton to Lafayette streets is in a very bad condition.

Mrs. John L. Piper, of Altoona, Pa., is lying seriously ill at the residence of Mr. J. H. Hewes, in this city.

A plate glass window in "Our Palace," on west Berry street, was broken last night by some unknown parties.

The Huntington Herald says: "The Fort Wayne SENTINEL has been considerably improved under the new management."

The Third Street M. E. Church social will be held at Prof. Miller's residence, 233 Wells street this evening. All are cordially invited to be present.

Law Counter, Cal Whipple, Peter Meibers and S. Ray Williams, of the Democrat, all of Decatur, were in attendance at the Democratic meeting last night.

Hon. Hugh Dougherty and wife, of Bluffton, passed through the city yesterday evening, en route for Detroit, to spend a few days among the "northern lake."

The citizens of Arcola and vicinity are requested to attend a pole raising at that place on Saturday afternoon next, at 4 o'clock. Speakers will be in attendance.

Hon. George W. Julian will speak in this city on the afternoon of September 7th. It will be one of the best speeches of the campaign. When Julian talks Republicans squirm.

The report of last night's big Democratic demonstration as published in the Gazette this morning is the best possible kind of campaign literature—for the Democrats. It is having an opposite effect from that intended.

The Fair.

The coming fair promises to be an affair the like of which has never before been witnessed in Indiana. It only remains for each citizen to use his utmost endeavors to render it a success. The managers are working night and day to this end and they ask the hearty cooperation of all. Certainly Allen County is able to make a creditable showing and the fair, if a success as it will be, will be another trophy won by her enterprise.

Thumped in Bed.

A man named Ryan, who lodges on Columbia street, claims that his room was entered last night by burglars who beat him in a shocking manner, then rifled the room of all its portable valuables, including quite a sum of money. As far as the beating is concerned the man's looks bear him out in his assertion, as he is terribly cut and bruised about the face, but the robbery story must be taken with some allowance.

RADICAL ARGUMENTS.

Brate Force, Versus Honest Argument.

The First Voters' Hancock Club, on their way to escort the Hon. J. A. McDonald from Hon. A. Holman Hamilton's residence, to the place of speaking last evening, were violently assaulted at several points, stones and other missiles were hurled at the club members severely injuring several. This thing is regularly practiced in Republican communities, but here in old Allen it is a novelty, and we warn our adversaries to desist, as measures have been taken to return leaden compliments upon the first opportunity. FAIRPLAY.

THE new crop of wheat in California is moving rapidly to the coast for shipment. It is the largest crop ever grown there.

THE aggregate earnings of the railroads of the United States have been computed by somebody with a head of figures, and he finds that they were over $529,000,000, or almost double the entire revenues of the government.

DURING the year ending with June, 457,234 emigrants landed in the United States, July increased the number to 49,023. This never was exceeded except in the year 1873, when the arrivals were 459,803. The tide of emigration from Ireland this year is likely to be great.

A YOUNG man named ALLEN, a Republican candidate for surveyor in Knox county, Indiana, comes out for HANCOCK and ENGLISH, whereas the Terre Haute Gazette remarks: "When Republican candidates begin deserting the party it is about time for somebody to move to make the election unanimous."

IT WAS on the 7th of June, 1880, that Editor HALSTEAD remarked in his Cincinnati Commercial: "The most contemptible thing thus far at Chicago is the chatter about GARFIELD. He has not a record to run on for President." Mr. HALSTEAD is now supporting GARFIELD for President, and proving him to be good and pure and strong and elected already. The New York Herald calls Mr. HALSTEAD "the Maud Muller of the Ohio valley."

THE Cincinnati Commercial is making its campaign against ENGLISH and letting HANCOCK severely alone. It has yet to publish the fact that HAYES kicked ENGLISH's opponent, ARTHUR, out of the New York Custom House "in order that the office may be honestly administered," [HAYES' letter, Dec. 31st, 1879], and that JOHN SHERMAN aided in the kicking out of ARTHUR by declaring that ARTHUR as Collector connived at bribery, put names of dead beats on the pay rolls, and increased the expenses of the office while diminishing its revenues, [See SHERMAN's letter, Dec. 31st, 1879]. ARTHUR is a bad lot, and the Republican papers are no ways anxious to canvass his record. In reality he is a New York sport, much given to cards, wine and kindred vices.

THE "GAZETTE" AND STATE RIGHTS.

We are glad to see our morning contemporary evince a disposition for temperate discussion of an important issue in this campaign. We refer to its editorial of this morning on State Rights. True, we do not think it has thrown any very great light on the subject, but then this is a thing to be expected in the first efforts of all beginners. Not having thought much upon the subject until it was forced upon him by the SENTINEL, it would be unreasonable to expect too much of the Gazette in the start. As it gradually learns something of the nature of State Rights, it will of course be able to fall something new. But as we have said, it is not just to require too much of beginners at the start. The weakest of them may develop strength by practice.

There is, however, one error into which our contemporary has fallen that we feel in duty bound to correct and that is in speaking of us as having been a member of Congress at the time of the passage of the CHITTENDEN resolutions, and refusing to vote for appropriations. Our friend was perhaps never more mistaken about a thing in his life than in supposing we ever were a member of Congress—and more than all, as far back as the time of the CHITTENDEN resolutions—we are getting along in years somewhat, but we are not quite old enough for that, and we can't help thinking it a trifle unkind in our contemporary to risk spoiling our market among the young folks by so reckless a statement as this. We tell him in all frankness that he must be surer of his facts than this if he is going to talk State Rights to any purpose with the SENTINEL.

Another thing we feel warranted in calling his attention to is that when he professes to quote our language he should be careful to quote it correctly—as it is now and then is perhaps unavoidable in the hurry of proof-reading, but they ought to be extremely rare. There was a serious departure from this in the Gazette's professed quotation of our language this morning, in substituting the word "Democrats" for the word "secessionists," that gave an entirely different meaning to the sentence professed to be quoted—our friend must get out of all such loose and slipshod ways as this or the SENTINEL can have no discussion with him.

A Serious Mistake of Time and Place, Parties and Things.

The act of cutting down a Democratic pole and chopping up the HANCOCK and ENGLISH flag of stars and stripes, together with even the very ropes used for hoisting and lowering it, near Marion, Grant county, Indiana, a few days ago was a great mistake, not only as to the time and place, pole and flag, but as to the parties that did the cutting down and the chopping up. Instead of being done by Republicans on a Democratic pole and flag in a Republican county in the loyal and unreconstructed State of Indiana, it ought by rights, according to Republican logic, to have been done by Democrats upon a Republican pole and flag anywhere in the disloyal and reconstructed State of Alabama. If the thing had only been in this way, then saintly Republicans could have enjoyed it without the slightest drawback to their relish of it. It would have been nuts for them to crack all through the balance of the campaign, and it may possibly have so turned the scales as to have helped GARFIELD's election. But as it is, instead of a basket of nuts to crack and eat at leisure, they have a huge elephant on their hands to water, and feed as occupation for their leisure moments. It's even worse than that. Besides proving an elephant to be watered and fed, it is also as a fire in the rear, kindled entirely too near home. It is only when such fires are kindled at a distance that they can stand around and toast their shins by them with the liveliest satisfaction. It must have been the work of some nincompoop that didn't know what he was doing, who broke into the Republican magazine of fireworks and stole from it a lot of Republican thunder intended exclusively for Southern use, and proceeded to kindle a bonfire with it in the front yard so as to have a real boys' Fourth of July all to himself.

Whatever particular person may have cut down this pole and chopped up the flag and ropes into mince meat as it were, the after proceedings seem to demonstrate that Republicans of the vicinity rather enjoyed it. For though Major STEELE, the Republican candidate for Congress in the District, is said to have denounced the act from a Republican platform in the vicinity, and given notice of an intended replacing of the pole and flag on a day named, and expected Republicans to turn out and help in the intended restoration, we are told by the Democratic paper of Marion that very few of them did so. If the Republicans of the neighborhood had really meant to testify their sincere disapproval of the act there was but one method by which they could have effectually done so; and that was to have asked to be permitted to be at the sole cost of restitution themselves. This would have put their professions of regret for the act beyond all question of suspicion, while the fact that but few heeded the suggestion of Major STEELE for help in restoring that which had been destroyed, stamp them with a willingness to be held responsible for the whole thing—and having thus chosen their position on the subject they must be permitted to occupy it. The few Republicans that did attend and help in the work of restoration deserve undying honor, and we regret that only the names of Capt. JOHN RUSS and FRANK GORDON appear among the few to whom this great honor is due.

Such acts as the one we have commented on are of too frequent occurrence to be charged to accident, or looked on as exceptional merely. The fact of their occurring only in localities where there is a decided Republican preponderance, and that the great body of that party show no interest in the acts of restitution, will go a great way towards fixing the responsibility for them.

GARFIELD'S CREDIT MOBILIER PERJURY.

From Garfield's Own Sworn Testimony Before the Poland Committee, January 14th, 1873.

I never owned, received, or agreed to receive any stock of the Credit Mobilier or of the Union Pacific railroad, nor any dividends or profits arising from either of them.

From Judge Poland's report, February 18th, 1873.

He (GARFIELD) agreed with Mr. AMES to take ten shares Credit Mobilier stock, but did not pay for the same. Mr. AMES received the 80 per cent. dividend in bonds and sold them for 97 per cent., and also received the 60 per cent. cash dividend, which, together, paid the price of the stock and interest and left a balance of $329. This sum was paid over to Mr. GARFIELD by a check on the sergeant-at-arms, and Mr. GARFIELD then understood this sum was the balance of dividends after paying for the stock. Signed by (Rep.) LUKE P. POLAND, of Vermont.

(Rep.) N. P. BANKS, of Massachusetts.

(Rep.) GEORGE W. MCCRARY, of Iowa.

(Dem.) W. E. NIBLACK, of Indiana.

(Dem.) W. M. MERRICK, of Maryland.

CONTEMPORARY REPUBLICAN TESTIMONY.

New York Times, February 19, 1873.

Messrs. KELLEY and GARFIELD present a most distressing figure. Their participation in the Credit Mobilier affair is complicated by the most unfortunate contradictions of testimony.

New York Times, February 20th, 1873.

The character of the Credit Mobilier was no secret. The source of its profits was very well known at the time Congressmen bought it. Though OAKES AMES may have succeeded in concealing his own motive, which was to bribe Congressmen, their acceptance of the stock was not on that account innocent. The dishonesty of the act, as a participation in an obvious fraud, still remains.

Some of them have indulged in testimony with reference to the matter which has been contradicted. The committee distinctly rejects the testimony of several of the members. This can only be done on the ground that it is untrue. But untrue testimony given under oath is morally, if not legally, perjury.

It is the clear duty of Congress to visit with punishment all who took Credit Mobilier stock from OAKES AMES.

New York Tribune, Feb. 19, 1873.

JAMES A. GARFIELD of Ohio had 10 shares; never paid a dollar; received $329, which, after the investigation began, he was anxious to have considered as a loan from Mr. OAKES AMES to himself.

Well, the wickedness of all of it is that these men betrayed the trust of the people, deceived their constituents, and by evasions and falsehoods confessed the transaction to be disgraceful.

A MISSOURI RECORDER.

He Attends Sunday School for the First Time and is Greatly Amused.

The Kansas City Times, in a recent issue, says: On Sunday there was a double wedding at the First Baptist church at Independence, at which two young ladies named Harris were united to two gentlemen from Harrisonville, Mr. Burns Christian and Mr. Louis E. Pierson. Recorder Finney, of the police court, was invited to be present and started down there at an early hour. When he arrived Sunday school was in progress, but he went into the church unconscious of anything of the kind. When he saw the crowd of young people he was astonished and cried out, "What have we here, a picnic?"

The superintendent, Mr. Franklin, stepped back to where his honor was standing, viewing the happy crowd of children, and invited him to be seated.

"But," asked the old man, "what kind of carrying on is this for the holy Sabbath day? Don't you know better than to have a picnic in the church?" His lips quivering and the tears starting from his eyes.

The superintendent explained that the gathering was a Sunday school held for the purpose of instructing the children about the Bible.

"A Sunday school!" said he, looking puzzled, "I never heard of such a thing in all my life, dog-on my hide if I have."

Quickly and unostentatiously the kind-hearted superintendent led the good man out, and by the time the services were concluded he had some idea of what the exercises were for. But the wedding was what he wanted to see, and he asked Mr. Franklin when it was to come off.

"I came down here," said the old man, "to see how the preacher chaps do this thing up, for I want to learn something, even if I am getting old. This Sunday school business is what knocks me; and I must go and take a smoke to settle my nerves," and he crossed the street to sit in the shade of a friendly tree.

When the ceremony was concluded, the recorder was the happiest man in the church. He kissed both brides, and while he was at the wedding dinner said: "Well, this is one of the biggest days of my life. I feel a heap better than if I had sent a dozen poor drunkards to the work-house."

The Chinese are the best cigar makers in the world, because they can use one third oakum where a white man can't use any.

Dr. Harter's

STANDS TO-DAY WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD. For the cure of all kinds of Ague and Chills it has no equal, having stood the test of universal use for thirty years in the most malarial districts. It never fails to cure, not merely removing for a time the symptoms, but eradicating the cause of the disease, thereby making a permanent cure. Price only 75 cts.

Manufactured by The Dr. Harter Medicine Co., No. 213 N. Main Street, St. Louis.

Rev. F. HACKMEIER, Supt. German Protestant Orphan's Home, St. Charles Rock Road, St. Louis Co., writing April 30th, 1877, says: "Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific is a positive cure for Chills and Fever; has never failed with us."

Mr. JNO. C. WELBORN of Keosauqua, Ill., says: "I cured a little girl of Ague of three years' standing, with Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific, after the best physicians failed to benefit her."

Dr. YOUNGWOOD of Little York, Mo., says: "I have used Dr. Harter's Fever and Ague Specific in my practice, and can heartily recommend it to the public."

FEVER & AGUE SPECIFIC

are not recommended as a remedy "for all the ills that flesh is heir to," but in affections of the Liver, and in all Bilious Complaints, Dyspepsia, and Sick Headache, or diseases of that character, they stand without a rival.

ACUE AND FEVER.

No better cathartic can be used preparatory to, or after taking quinine. As a simple purgative they are unequalled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar-coated. Each box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression, MCCLANE'S LIVER PILLS. Each wrapper bears the signatures of C. McLane and FLEMING BROS. Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. MCCLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by FLEMING BROS., Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently, out some pronunciation.

DAY'S KIDNEY PAD

ACTS DIRECTLY ON THE KIDNEYS,
Bladder and Urinary Organs by Absorbing all humors, every trace of disease, and forcing into the system through the pores of the skin, nourishing and strengthening vegetable tonics, giving it wondrous power to cure all ills.

PAIN IN THE BACK.
Side or Loins, Inflammation and Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Diabetes, Dropsy, Gravel, Catarrh of the Bladder, Neuritis, Rheumatism or Excess of the Urine, Stone in the Bladder, High Colored, Scanty or Painful Urinating, Deposits, Cysts or Stricture in the Urethra, NEURALGIA and PLEURALGIA, and in fact any disease of these great organs, whether contracted by overwork, strain, excess of drink, the abuse of nature or otherwise.

It supercedes entirely the inconveniences and troubles of taking nauseous and poisonous internal medicines. It is worn exactly where needed, next to the body and immediately over the kidneys. It is comfortable to the patient, safe, pleasant and reliable in its effects, but powerful in its action. It can be worn at all times, in any climate, and is equally good for

MAN, WOMAN OR CHILD.

Do not be prejudiced. Give it a trial and be convinced that it is honest, reliable, effective and just what your feeble and exhausted body requires. Thousands are daily adding their testimony to the wonderful curative powers of this great remedy, who are being restored to perfect health after all other treatments and remedies have failed. Ask your druggist for it and accept no imitation or substitute. If it has not got it, send to us and receive it by mail.

Descriptive Price List—Regular Pad, $2; Special Pad, for Chronic, deep-seated or cases of long standing, $3; Children's Pad, for summer complaints, weak kidneys and bed wetting, $1.50. Our book, "How a Life was Saved," containing a history of this great discovery, mailed free on request.

DAY KIDNEY PAD CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by J. E. & Bro., Meyer Bros. & Co., C. E. Woodworth, D. B. Stroppe & Co., and druggists generally.

Captain Stone, manager of Maud S., has a cable dispatch from Vanderbilt, her owner, instructing him not to start the mare this season, being fully satisfied with her achievements, and requesting that the mare be taken to Cincinnati and kept in condition for his personal driving when he returns. St. Julian will trot against 2:11 1/2 on Thursday, at Hartford.

The much-sought Dr. Buchanan, of bogus medical diploma notoriety, whose disappearance from Philadelphia and supposed drowning on a ferry boat, which has already been telegraphed over the country, has been run down at last. He is stopping at Windsor, Ont. He has been hiding in the vicinity for several days under the assumed name of Fairchild. There seems to be no doubt of his identity. The police authorities have not been communicated with and have taken no steps to interfere with his movements.

A special dispatch from Salamanca, N. Y., reports a snooting affray that will probably result fatally to two of the participants. Mrs. Bohn alias Lizzie Jackson became enamored of John Locke Warwick, a member of Callender's Georgia Minstrels, and followed the company from Syracuse. This afternoon Warwick, accompanied by Lizzie Jackson, went into a saloon, and were soon after joined by John Taylor, another member of the Georgia Minstrels, and Frederick Jackson, the reputed husband of Lizzie. All the parties are colored. Jackson, hearing of his wife's action, followed her from Syracuse. After taking a drink, Jackson quickly drew a revolver and shot Warwick through the neck, the ball penetrating the windpipe and came out the other side. Jackson then fired several shots at his wife, one ball striking her in the eye, inflicting a terrible wound, another in the shoulder, and the third in the head. Warwick fired at Jackson several times, one ball grazing his back. Warwick then fled. Jackson was arrested and is now in jail. Warwick's wound will prove fatal, while Mrs. Jackson may recover. Warwick's home is in Davenport, Iowa. Jackson is said to be a native of Baltimore. The minstrels gave an entertainment in the evening, as advertised.

BUSINESS OF A YEAR.

The Fort Wayne Railroad Second on Live Stock.

The railroads in Pennsylvania carried 33,818,096 tons of anthracite and 23,427,682 tons of bituminous coal. In the former the Reading leads, of course, and the others follow in the order of the production, but the Pennsylvania leads them all in bituminous, with 5,301,843 tons. The Pennsylvania has thus become the largest coal carrier in the country, and it is not likely that it will ever lose its place in this respect. Second to the Pennsylvania is the New York, Lake Erie and Western, which taps all the northern fields, and carried 4,410,327 tons. No other roads reached two millions, the Pittsburgh and Connellsville coming next with 1,000,386 tons. The three Pennsylvania companies—the Northern Central, Allegheny Valley and Shamokin Valley and Pottsville—all carried over one million tons, and the only roads besides those mentioned that did. The Pennsylvania carried 913,042 tons of petroleum, or a fifth of the whole, and the Philadelphia and Erie comes next, with more than a seventh. The two roads together carried more than a third of the total. The Reading comes next to Pennsylvania in pig-iron, its total being about 60 per cent, as much, and of railroad iron about 50 per cent. In ores the Reading stands first, with the Lehigh Valley third. The Lake Shore is third in stone and lime and first in agricultural products, of which it carried 2,119,121 tons, against 1,894,741 tons for the Pennsylvania. The Reading ran over a million, and the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis and the Fort Wayne over three-quarters of a million each. In general merchandise the Lake Shore was very close to the Pennsylvania, with the Northern Central third. The Lake Shore had a strong lead in live stock and lumber, carrying over half a million tons of each. The Fort Wayne was second on live stock, and the Philadelphia and Erie third on lumber. Six roads earned more than a million from passengers, the Pennsylvania leading by half a million, with the Erie second and Lake Shore third. In freight the Pennsylvania was further ahead with $17,000,000, followed next by the Erie with $12,000,000, and the Lake Shore a million less. The Reading was close on to the Lake Shore, and in miscellaneous took the lead, on account of doing its own express business, though the Lake Shore earned more than the Pennsylvania from this source. The gross receipts of all lines foot up $126,984,838, of which the Pennsylvania had a sixth, or five millions more than the Erie, which came next. These and the Lake Shore and the Reading alone earned over ten millions, the Fort Wayne coming next with eight millions. The total expenditures were $75,731,288, and in this classification the Reading comes up third, leaving the Lake Shore fourth. A marked difference in the way of keeping accounts is shown by the fact that the Erie charges over eight million to maintenance of way, while the Pennsylvania put down only two millions on that score. On the other hand its miscellaneous expenses foot up over seven millions, or twenty times as much as those of the Erie.

Weather Wisdom.

(Lime-Kill Club Proceedings, Free Press.)
"Gem'len," said the president, "I fink dat de inhabitants of dis kentry an payin' altogether too much 'tension to dis wedder qeshun. Dar's a groan o' despair when it's hot an' a growl of displeasure when it's cold. If it rains somebody raises a row, an' if it's dry somebody else has a bone to pick wid de powers above. Ebery red-headed, one-hoss white man—ebery broken-down old two-cent ducky, has got de ideah in his head dat de Lawd am boun' to send him long jist the sort o' wedder he wants, no matter 'bout de rest of de kentry. De ole man Rubottom, libin' up dar by my cabin, has got 'bout fifteen cents wort o' garden truck back of his house, an' when it's hot or cold or wet or dry he am so agitated dat he forgets dat any odder soul in dis kentry has sot out an onion or planted a 'tater. So 'dan fifty years ago I cum to de conclusion dat I mus' put up wid such wedder as de Lawd gim me, no matter wedder it brought on chilblains, rheumatics, an' it was a great burden off my mind. I take it jist as it comes, keepin' de ole umbrella in good repair, an' I doan' know nuffin 'bout almanacks, an' I doan' want to."

A Woman's Plain Logic.

The following gives an idea of woman's logic:
A gentleman was asking the daughter of a neighbor how her father got rid of potato-bugs, which were proving a serious nuisance to the neighborhood.
"Are you troubled much," said he, "with the bugs at your place?"
"No, not much," said she.
"Well, how do you get rid of them? What do you do?"
"We don't do anything at all," said she.
"Don't you use Paris green?" said he.
"No, sir, we don't," said the young lady.
"Will you please tell me, then," said the gentleman, somewhat nettled at her replies, "why you are not bothered with the bugs on your potatoes, as I am?"
By this time the young lady had got up to go, and just as she tied her bonnet-strings and was going down the steps of the porch, she turned and said:
"Well, I suppose it's because we hain't got no potatoes."
